GOOD TO KNOW

> Before you print: choose Actual size (or 100%) rather than "Fit to page". That keeps everything square and the tick boxes big enough to mark.

> How the evening runs: the Superlatives go round as people arrive, the memory quiz at the table, Would You Rather over dessert — and the superlative winners are announced before everyone leaves.

> What to print: every game is a single page — print one copy of each page per table, or one per guest for the write-in games.

> Nothing else needed. A pen for each guest, and that is the whole setup. No cutting, no folding, no pieces to lose.

How Well Do You Remember Your Class? — write your best guess

Everyone answers on their own, then go round the table and compare. A point for every answer that matches someone else's — the classmate with the most points remembers the class best.

1 Who always had the answers in class?

2 Who was the class clown?

3 What was the school mascot?

4 Which teacher did everyone fear?

5 Where did everyone hang out after school?

6 What song takes you straight back to school?

7 What was the worst thing on the cafeteria menu?

8 Describe your school days in three words.

Would You Rather — go around the table, everyone answers

Read one out. Everyone picks a side, and the smaller side has to explain itself. No winner — this is how the room starts talking.

1. Would you rather go back to school knowing what you know now, or keep your life exactly as it is?
2. Would you rather have your yearbook photo on a billboard, or your report card read aloud tonight?
3. Would you rather be remembered as the smartest, or the funniest?
4. Would you rather sit through one more exam, or one more school assembly?
5. Would you rather have unlimited vacation days, or unlimited savings?
6. Would you rather meet your 18-year-old self, or your 80-year-old self?
7. Would you rather lose your school photos, or your school memories?
8. Would you rather be the most successful in the room, or the happiest?
9. Would you rather go back and change one decision, or know exactly how it all turns out?
10. Would you rather run into an old crush, or an old teacher?

Class Superlatives — most likely to

Write a classmate's name beside each one. Collect the sheets, count the votes and announce the winners before the night ends — most votes takes the title.
